MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

ANNUAL OVERVIEW, OUTLOOK:

Your Directors are pleased to present the Management Discussion and Analysis Report for the year ended 31st March, 2025.

India will need to deal with global political challenges, control rising prices at home, and encourage businesses to spend more money as the world's fastest-growing large economy looks for more good growth in 2025, moving past the weak September quarter. Economists at the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) say that quick-moving data for the third quarter of 2024-25 shows the economy is getting better, supported by strong festival spending and steady growth in rural demand.

The Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman called the recent slowdown only a "temporary pause." India's economic growth fell to a seven-quarter low of 5.4 percent in July-September after growing at a healthy 7-8 percent earlier. For the full year 2024-25, real GDP growth is expected to be 6.6 percent, and 6.9 percent for the first quarter of 2025-26. In the following year, the RBI expects growth in the June quarter to be 7.3 percent.

Looking ahead, steady growth in real wages should continue to help consumers; though spending may add less to overall growth since the boost from past savings and loans has mostly faded. Sectors that depend on interest rates still face pressure but have started to steady as rates have peaked. How much they improve will depend on whether long-term rates come down next year. Housing investment dropped in the second and third quarters as builders lost confidence due to high long-term borrowing costs, which may stay high even if the U.S. Federal Reserve cuts short-term rates. The manufacturing sector, facing weak global demand, also saw low job creation and fewer new orders. But possible rate cuts could revive these sectors and add to GDP growth. Even with high borrowing costs, business spending stayed strong thanks to healthy company finances and government support through laws like the CHIPS Act and Inflation Reduction Act. Tech firms, in particular, boosted their spending because of competition in artificial intelligence, and lower rates could help similar growth in other industries.

The return of Donald Trump as President and the Republican control of Congress could bring big policy changes and create uncertainty for the economy. While the exact timing and details are not yet known, tax cuts, higher tariffs, lower immigration, and fewer business rules are expected. One major risk is Trump's plan for trade. He has suggested a 10 percent tariff on all imports and a 60 percent tariff on goods from China, which could be used as a tool in trade talks. If carried out, these tariffs could push up inflation, lower demand, and lead to higher interest rates and a stronger U.S. dollar.

WORLD ECONOMY AND STOCK MARKET PERFORMANCE: FINANCIAL YEAR 2024-2025:

The financial year 2024-2025 was characterized by a global economy facing significant headwinds, primarily stemming from elevated trade tensions, geopolitical conflicts, and persistent policy uncertainty. Despite these challenges, there were pockets of resilience and notable divergences in performance across different regions and asset classes.

OVERVIEW OF THE GLOBAL ECONOMY:

- Slowing Growth: Global economic growth was projected to slow in 2025, a downgrade from previous forecasts. Major international bodies like the World Bank and the IMF had revised their growth outlooks downward. This slowdown was particularly pronounced in regions heavily reliant on global trade, such as East Asia and Europe.
- Persistent Inflation and Monetary Policy Divergence: While global inflation showed signs of easing, progress was uneven. Tariffs in some economies acted as a supply shock, fueling inflationary pressures, while in others, they had a negative demand impact. Central banks' monetary policies began to diverge. The US Federal Reserve was expected to be cautious with rate cuts due to inflation risks, while the European Central Bank (ECB) was anticipated to ease more decisively. The Bank of Japan (BoJ) continued its slow normalization of policy.
- Trade and Geopolitical Tensions: The rise in trade barriers and heightened policy uncertainty were central themes. New tariffs and trade restrictions particularly initiated by the US, disrupted global supply chains and contributed to a cooling of industrial activity. This environment also put downward pressure on foreign direct investment (FDI).
- Fiscal Policy Constraints: Governments in many economies were constrained by high debt levels and rising interest costs. While some countries tightened their fiscal policy, others increased spending to counter weak growth or social unrest.
- "American Exceptionalism" and Divergent Regional Performance: The US economy showed a degree of resilience, with slower but still-positive growth, driven by strong corporate earnings, consumer spending, and a robust labor market. This contrasted with downward revisions for growth in other major economies. The Eurozone experienced modest growth, supported by recovering bank lending and fiscal stimulus in some countries like Germany. The UK economy had a strong start to the year but was expected to soften.
- India's Performance: India stood out as a bright spot, becoming the world's fourth-largest economy. It was the fastest-growing major economy, with real GDP growth of 6.5% for the fiscal year. This growth was driven by resilient domestic demand, a digitally-skilled workforce, and expanding trade. India's capital markets also demonstrated resilience, supported by strong domestic investor participation that offset foreign outflows.

Stock Market Performance:

Global stock markets delivered solid gains in 2024-2025, despite the challenging economic backdrop. A key theme was the ability of markets to rally even in the face of concerning headlines and policy uncertainty.

- Overall Gains and Resilience: Global developed market equities reached new all-time highs. Markets demonstrated a "V-shaped" recovery from a sharp sell-off in early 2025, which was sparked by new tariffs. Investor confidence returned, and the rally was helped by the prospect of interest rate cuts from some central banks.

- Diverging Regional Performance:

Europe: European stock markets were among the best performers, leading the global charge. Powerful rallies in Germany and Spain, along with surging demand for defense stocks, contributed to this outperformance. Investors began shifting allocations away from the highly valued US market to Europe, where valuations were more attractive.

Asia-Pacific: Markets in the Asia-Pacific region, excluding Japan, also benefited from a growing belief in the waning of "American Exceptionalism" and a weakening US dollar. China's market showed resilience, emerging from the tariff war less scathed than expected. However, performance was a mixed bag, with India's market seeing a weaker start to the year due to high valuations, and Thailand's market hitting a five-year low.

- Sector and Asset Class Performance:

- Technology and Growth Stocks: The US technology sector, particularly the "Magnificent Seven" companies, continued to report strong earnings and revenue growth, which lifted overall growth stocks.
- Small vs. Large Caps: Small-cap stocks performed well, benefiting from an improving growth outlook.
- Mid-Cap Underperformance (India): In India, there was a notable trend of actively managed mid-cap funds underperforming their benchmark indices.

The financial year 2024-2025 was a tale of two halves for India's benchmark indices, the BSE Sensex and the NSE Nifty 50, which delivered positive but volatile returns. The first half of the fiscal year saw a robust bull run, as a stable political environment following the third-consecutive election victory of the Narendra Modi-led government fueled investor confidence. Both the Sensex and Nifty 50 soared to new record highs, with a powerful rally driven by optimism about economic reforms. However, this bullish momentum hit a wall in the second half of the year. Markets came under significant pressure due to expensive valuations, relentless selling by Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) who re-allocated funds to other, cheaper Asian markets like China, and a series of disappointing corporate earnings. Despite this correction and heightened volatility, both the Nifty 50 and Sensex managed to close the fiscal year in positive territory, with the Nifty 50 gaining approximately 5.34% and the Sensex advancing by 5.10%. The resilience was largely supported by strong domestic institutional and retail investor participation, which helped cushion the impact of foreign outflows.

- Valuations and Investor Sentiment: Market valuations, particularly for global equities, were extended, with price-to-earnings multiples higher than their long-term averages. This suggested that investors were pricing in a "Goldilocks" scenario of accelerating growth and moderate inflation. However, this left little room for disappointment and underscored the potential for continued volatility.

INDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENTS:

A. Global Economy:

The global economy navigated a period of persistent uncertainty and moderating growth in the financial year 2024-25, with a more subdued and divergent outlook projected for 2025-26. Key themes across both periods included the lingering effects of high inflation, a new phase of monetary policy, and the significant impact of rising trade tensions and geopolitical conflicts.

Financial Year 2024-25: A Period of Tenuous Stabilization:

The fiscal year 2024-25 was characterized by a stabilization phase, as global economic growth moderated from the previous year's momentum. Global GDP growth was estimated to be around 3.2%, a slight slowdown from earlier forecasts. This trend was driven by a complex mix of factors:

Divergent Economic Performance: The United States remained a standout, with solid but slowing growth, fueled by strong consumer spending and a resilient labor market. In contrast, the Eurozone experienced weaker growth, with major economies like Germany and France facing pressures from high energy prices and reduced external demand. China's growth continued to moderate, weighed down by a prolonged property sector correction and subdued domestic demand.

Inflation and Monetary Policy: While global inflation showed signs of easing from multi-decade highs, progress was uneven. Services inflation remained persistent in many advanced economies, complicating the policy decisions of central banks. The European Central Bank (ECB) initiated a series of rate cuts, while the U.S. Federal Reserve (Fed) remained more cautious, creating a notable divergence in monetary policy.

Trade and Geopolitical Headwinds: A sharp rise in trade barriers and heightened policy uncertainty emerged as a major downside risk. New tariffs and trade restrictions disrupted global supply chains, weighing on investment and industrial activity. Geopolitical tensions, particularly in Eastern Europe and the Middle East, added to the uncertainty, keeping commodity prices volatile.

Financial Year 2025-26: A Slowdown Amid Persistent Risks:

The outlook for financial year 2025-26 is marked by a further deceleration in global growth, with the IMF projecting a rate of around 3.0%. The key factors shaping this period include:

Further Deceleration and Divergence: Global growth is expected to weaken further, with a significant slowdown concentrated in major economies. The U.S. economy is projected to see its growth rate decline to around 1.6%, as the effects of policy uncertainty and trade barriers become more pronounced. Similarly, growth in the Eurozone and China is expected to moderate.

Fiscal and Financial Constraints: Fiscal policy is becoming increasingly constrained by high debt levels and rising interest costs across many nations. While some governments are increasing spending to counter weak growth, others are tightening their fiscal positions. This environment, coupled with elevated real long-term yields, is expected to weigh on investment.

Inflationary Pressures and Policy Response: Global inflation is forecast to continue its decline, but at a more gradual pace. However, the risk of a re-acceleration in inflation remains, particularly in economies that have imposed new tariffs, which act as a supply shock. This uncertainty is expected to keep central banks on a "data-dependent" and cautious path, with a greater degree of policy divergence as different regions grapple with their specific economic challenges.

Impact of Global Trade: The forecast for 2025-26 assumes that global trade will continue to be a significant drag on growth. The rise of protectionist measures and the risk of retaliatory actions pose a substantial threat to cross-border investment and supply chains. This environment underscores the need for greater multilateral cooperation to foster a more predictable and transparent global trade system.

Impact on Indian and Global Stock Markets:

Despite the economic headwinds, global developed market equities, particularly in the U.S., delivered solid gains. The S&P 500 continued to be supported by strong corporate earnings from the technology sector. European markets also rallied, as investors sought more attractive valuations.

The Indian stock market was one of the best-performing markets globally in FY 2024-25. It outperformed its emerging market peers, supported by strong macroeconomic fundamentals. However, the market saw heightened volatility. While the Nifty 50 showed a positive return for the fiscal year, it experienced significant swings due to sustained outflows of foreign portfolio investment (FPIs) as foreign investors sought higher yields in the US. This was largely offset by strong domestic institutional and retail investor participation, which provided a crucial stabilizing force.

The global stock market outlook for FY 2025-26 is mixed and volatile. The global equity rally is expected to lose momentum as a slowdown in economic growth, coupled with the drag from trade protectionism, weighs on corporate earnings. US stocks are likely to face headwinds from the squeeze on profit margins and a potential hit to consumer purchasing power from the new tariffs. Geopolitical risks are expected to keep market sentiment fragile, with potential for sharp corrections.

For the Indian stock market, the outlook is cautiously optimistic but with short-term risks. While the economy remains one of the world's fastest-growing, the US tariffs on Indian exports are a significant headwind that could impact specific sectors. The market is expected to be choppy in the short term, with an overhang of tariff-related news. However, the long-term outlook remains positive due to strong domestic demand, easing inflation (reaching an eight-year low of 1.55% in July 2025), and supportive government reforms. Domestic investors are expected to continue compensating for FPI outflows, providing a buffer against global shocks and ensuring a more resilient performance compared to many of its global peers.

B. Indian Economy:

India's economy carried forward the momentum it built in F.Y. 2023-24 into F.Y. 2024-25 despite continued global and external challenges. The focus on maintaining macroeconomic stability ensured these challenges had minimal impact. As a result, India's real GDP grew by 6.5% in FY25, following a year of over 7% growth, driven by robust domestic consumption and steadily improving investment demand. On the supply side, gross value added (GVA) at constant (2011-12) prices grew by 6.4% in FY25, with growth remaining broad-based across all major sectors. Net taxes at constant prices also grew by 13.57%, aided by reasonably strong tax growth at both the central and state levels and the government's continued push for fiscal prudence. This led to a healthy fiscal position, with the government successfully meeting its fiscal deficit target.

As for India, it remains a bright spot, and we remain optimistic about its long-term growth prospects. However, Indian equity indices did not record double-digit returns in FY 2024-25, unlike the previous year. Your Company's portfolio, which is a mix of listed equities, has demonstrated resilience. Thus, even in a year of moderate market returns and heightened volatility, your Company's Total Equity per Share has increased.

Despite heightened geopolitical risks, evolving monetary policies, and volatile commodity prices, Indian capital markets have been one of the best performing among emerging markets in F.Y. 2024-25, reflecting India's bright economic stature. Capital markets are becoming prominent in India's growth story, with an expanding share in capital formation and the investment landscape on the back of technology, innovation, and digitization. The following sections present the significant trends in primary markets, secondary markets, and institutional investment in India.

Your Company is primarily engaged in dealing in securities and investments. As per the Survey report tabled by the Union Minister for Finance & Corporate Affairs Nirmala Sitharaman in Parliament. The Survey observes that India's capital markets had a good year despite global macroeconomic uncertainty, unprecedented inflation, monetary policy tightening, volatile markets, etc.

In nominal terms, 2024-25 was a year of moderate returns for the BSE Sensex. The index closed 3,300 points higher on March 31, 2025, from a year ago. In percentage terms, the Sensex moved higher by 4.5% in 2024-25. This was in a period of heightened market volatility and significant FPI (Foreign Portfolio Investor) outflows, especially in the second half of the fiscal year. Despite these domestic and global challenges, which included the continued impact of geopolitical events and a slower-than-expected global economic growth, the Indian market was a standout performer. Even among major emerging and developed market economies, India's stock market outperformed its peers during 2024-25, reflecting the country's strong macroeconomic fundamentals and robust domestic investor participation

Amid a sustained domestic economic expansion and a resilient investment climate, the primary markets remained exceptionally robust during FY25, facilitating record-breaking capital formation of '14.99 lakh crore. This was a significant increase of 62.50% from the '9.23 lakh crore raised in the previous year. Of the total amount mobilized in FY25, 74.2% was raised through debt issuances, with private placements dominating the market. Fund mobilization through all three modes saw strong growth compared to the previous year: equity fundraising surged by 92%, debt issuances by 16.6%, and hybrid instruments by 4.4%.

The number of initial public offerings (IPOs) in the main board increased by 1.6 times to 325 in FY25, from 200 in FY24, while the total amount raised grew by 150% (from '1.62 lakh crore in FY24 to '4.05 lakh crore in FY25). This massive increase was driven by blockbuster listings like Ola Electric, raising '15,000 crore, and Zomato's follow-on public offering (FPO), which raised '7,500 crore. The SME platforms at the exchanges witnessed heightened activities during FY25, as the number of IPOs increased by 13% (from 272 in FY24 to 307 in FY25), while the corresponding fund raised rose by 63% over the previous year (from '6,095 crore in FY24 to '9,961 crore in FY25).

As per a report by EY, Indian exchanges were global leaders in IPO listings, with India's share consistently rising to 30% in 2024 from 17% in 2023. Reflecting the buoyant market conditions, Qualified Institutional Placements (QIPs) emerged as a critical equity fundraising mechanism, with mobilization more than doubling to '2.2 lakh crore during FY25 from '1.1 lakh crore in the previous year. Resources rose through rights issues also grew significantly; reaching '16,167 crore in FY25 compared to '15,110 crore in FY24.

According to statistics from the Futures Industry Association (FIA), a derivatives trade association, the National Stock Exchange of India Ltd. (NSE) has maintained its position as the world's largest derivatives exchange in 2024 by the number of contracts traded, a position it has held for the sixth consecutive year. The NSE was also ranked as the third largest exchange worldwide in cash equities by the number of trades, as per statistics from the World Federation of Exchanges (WFE) for CY2024.

India's economic performance has contributed to a growing high-net-worth individual (HNWI) population. According to the Knight Frank Global Wealth Report 2025, India's HNWI population (those with assets of $10 million or more) was estimated at 85,698 in 2024 and is projected to rise to 93,753 by 2028. In a different report, the Capgemini World Wealth Report 2025 indicated that India's total number of millionaires (those with investable assets of $1 million or more) rose to 378,810 in 2024, marking a significant increase and reflecting the country's rapid wealth creation.

The Company has sufficient working capital to meet financial requirements with tight control over expenditure; the Company will be able to serve its debt and other financing arrangement.

OPPORTUNITIES & THREATS:

OPPORTUNITIES:

Increase in IPOs:

The number of initial public offerings (IPOs) in the Main Board increased by 1.6 times to 325 in FY25, from 200 in FY24, while the total amount raised grew by 150% (from '1.62 lakh crore in FY24 to '4.05 lakh crore in FY25). This massive increase was driven by blockbuster listings like Ola Electric, raising '15,000 crore, and Zomato's follow-on public offering (FPO), which raised '7,500 crore. The SME platforms at the exchanges witnessed heightened activities during FY25, as the number of IPOs increased by 13% (from 272 in FY24 to 307 in FY25), while the corresponding fund raised rose by 63% over the previous year (from '6,095 crore in FY24 to '9,961 crore in FY25).

During the financial year 2024-25, the Indian stock market delivered positive returns but saw a moderation in growth compared to the previous year. India's Nifty 50 index gained 5.34% in FY25, a significant change from the 26.8% gain in FY24. This performance was influenced by a volatile second half, marked by high valuations and heavy selling by foreign institutional investors. Nevertheless, India's market capitalization continued its remarkable surge, reaching $6.2 trillion and solidifying its position as the fourth largest globally. The market capitalization-to-GDP ratio also saw a substantial increase, reflecting the deepening of the country's equity markets.

Initial Public Offerings (IPOs) are proving to be a great way for companies to raise capital. The year 2025 has been a landmark year for the IPO market, with several companies expected to go public and create a positive impact on the stock market. In the first half of 2025, 108 IPOs raised a total of $4.6 billion, including major listings like Hyundai Motor India. Investors are seeing promising returns from IPOs of companies with strong growth potential, and the robust pipeline of upcoming issues, including Ola Electric and LG Electronics India, signals continued buoyancy in the primary markets.

Greater Foreign Investments:

In FY 2024-25, India's foreign investment landscape showed a mixed but overall positive picture, with strong growth in FDI but continued volatility in FPI. The primary story was India's rising appeal as a manufacturing hub, which drove a significant increase in long-term investment.

FDI inflows into India saw a notable increase in FY 2024-25, signaling continued global confidence in the country's economic stability and long-term growth prospects. Total FDI inflows (including equity, reinvested earnings, and other capital) amounted to a provisional $81.04 billion. This represents a substantial increase of 14% from the $71.28 billion received in the previous fiscal year.

The growth in FY25 was particularly driven by a surge in manufacturing FDI, which grew by 18% to reach $19.04 billion. The services sector remained the top recipient of FDI equity inflows, capturing a 19% share of the total, followed by computer software and hardware. The top source countries for FDI were Singapore, Mauritius, and the United States.

Foreign investments play a crucial role in the Indian stock market's growth, and 2026 is expected to see a surge in foreign investments. The government's focus on ease of doing business, a stable political environment, and promising economic growth are likely to attract foreign investors to the Indian stock market. While the predictions seem positive, investors must remember that the stock market is volatile and unpredictable. It's essential to have a diversified portfolio and invest in stocks that have a strong growth potential. Investors should also keep an eye on global economic conditions and the government policies that impact the stock market.

Bullish Market Outlook:

Most experts predict a bullish market outlook for the Indian stock market in 2024. Positive economic growth and government policies are expected to drive up stock prices. Additionally, the low-interest rates and ample liquidity are expected to attract investors toward equities. The return on foreign investments is also expected to further fuel the market's growth.

The Growth of Emerging Sectors:

The Indian economy is evolving, and several emerging sectors like e-commerce, healthcare, and technology are gaining momentum. The increasing adoption of digital technologies and e-commerce platforms is expected to drive growth in these sectors, and investors are likely to see promising returns in these areas.

Boost in Infrastructure Development:

The government's focus on infrastructure development is expected to create a positive impact on the stock market. The initiatives like the National Infrastructure Pipeline and the Atmanirbhar Bharat Abhiyan are expected to create opportunities for companies in the infrastructure and construction sectors. This, in turn, is expected to drive up the stock prices of these companies.

Robust Domestic Growth:

India's strong economic fundamentals, including a young demographic, rising disposable income, and increasing urbanization, serve as powerful long-term drivers. A growing middle class fuels consumption, which directly boosts corporate earnings and provides a stable base for market liquidity.

Financialization of Savings:

The ongoing shift of domestic savings from traditional assets like gold and real estate into financial instruments like equities and mutual funds is a massive tailwind. The surge in retail investor participation and the growth of systematic investment plans (SIPs) provide a steady and resilient capital flow, reducing the market's dependence on foreign investors.

Government Reforms and Infrastructure Push:

The government's continued focus on structural reforms, such as the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) schemes and the push for infrastructure development, is creating new investment opportunities. Public sector capital expenditure is expected to crowd in private investment, stimulating growth in key sectors like manufacturing, construction, and logistics.

Digital Transformation:

The rapid pace of digitization is expanding market access. Technology platforms have made it easier for retail investors to participate from any part of the country, while financial technology (FinTech) innovations are creating a more inclusive and efficient ecosystem for capital formation and trading.

THREATS:

Global Geopolitical Tensions:

Heightened geopolitical conflicts, particularly the ongoing trade wars and military conflicts, pose a significant external threat. They can lead to supply chain disruptions, increase commodity price volatility, and trigger capital outflows from emerging markets like India, especially if risk aversion rises globally.

Monetary Policy Divergence:

The divergent monetary policies of major central banks, especially the U.S. Federal Reserve, pose a risk. If the Fed maintains high interest rates for longer than expected, it can lead to a stronger U.S. dollar, prompting foreign portfolio investors (FPIs) to pull money out of Indian equities in search of higher yields in the U.S.

High Market Valuations:

While a strong economy justifies high valuations, the Indian market has been trading at a premium compared to its historical averages and emerging market peers. This elevated valuation leaves the market vulnerable to sharp corrections in the event of any negative news, be it domestic policy changes or global economic shocks.

Regulatory and Fiscal Uncertainty:

While the government's reforms are a positive, any sudden changes in fiscal policy or capital market regulations could introduce uncertainty. For instance, a change in tax policy or the introduction of new trading rules could impact investor sentiment and trading volumes, creating a short-term headwind for the market.

The significant increase in retail investors in the stock market calls for careful consideration:

This is crucial because the possibility of overconfidence leading to speculation and the expectation of even greater returns, which might not align with the real market conditions, is a serious concern. For a developing economy such as India, the financial sector needs to support the banking sector and fill the gap in capital required for the economy's growth. Therefore, the financial sector should expand at a pace that is in lockstep with economic growth. In particular, India can ill-afford the economy's over financialisation at its current development stage.

The increased retail participation in financial markets and familiarity with financial products are beginning to grow in line with India's emergence as the world's fifth-largest economy. Therefore, firms operating in banking, insurance, and capital markets must keep the interests of the consumers in mind and improve their service quality through fair selling, disclosure, transparency, reliability, and responsiveness. Their internal appraisal and incentive systems must be in alignment with these considerations. It is in their interest and in the interest of the nation that they optimise their commercial goals over the long run.

RISKS AND CONCERNS:

The Company is now concentrating on investment and trading in Securities. Competition in the market continues to have an impact on the Company's operational performance and also exerts pressure on the margins. The Company has exposures in stock market. DCL are exposed to specific risks that are particular to their respective businesses and the environments within which they operate, including market risk, high volatility risk, credit risk, liquidity and interest rate risk, human resource risk, operational risk, information security risks, regulatory risk and macro-economic risks. The level and degree of each risk varies depending upon the nature of activity undertaken by them.

Market Risk: The Company has quoted investments which are exposed to fluctuations in stock prices. GCM continuously monitors market exposure in equity and, in appropriate cases, also uses various derivative instruments as a hedging mechanism to limit volatility.

Liquidity And Interest Rate Risk: The Company is exposed to liquidity risk principally, because of lending and investment for periods which may differ from those of its funding sources. Management team actively manages asset liability positions in accordance with the overall guidelines laid down by various regulators. The Company may be impacted by volatility in interest rates in India which could cause its margins to decline and profitability to shrink. The success of the Company's business depends significantly on interest income from its operations. It is exposed to interest rate risk, both as a result of lending at fixed interest rates and for reset periods which may differ from those of its funding sources. Interest rates are highly sensitive to many factors beyond the Company's control, including the monetary policies of the RBI, deregulation of the financial sector in India, domestic and international economic and political conditions and, inflation. As a result, interest rates in India have historically experienced a relatively high degree of volatility.

The Company seeks to match its interest rate positions of assets and liabilities to minimize interest rate risk. However, there can be no assurance that significant interest rate movements will not have an adverse effect on its financial position.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified opinion.

During the course of our audit, we have examined that the Company's principal business activity is buying and selling of quoted shares in an active market. Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current year. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Based on the circumstances and facts of the audit and entity, there are no key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

Information Other than the Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Company's management and Board of Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, but does not include the financial statements and auditor's report thereon. The annual report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the annual report, if we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance and take necessary actions, as applicable under the relevant laws and regulations. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Responsibility of Management and those charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

The Company's management and Board of Directors are responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the accounting Standards specified under section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate implementation and maintenance of accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with

SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the standalone financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current year and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

Annexure “B” to the Independent Auditor’s Report

(Referred to in paragraph 2(A)(f) under the heading ‘Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements’ of our report of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Act”)

Opinion

We have audited the internal financial controls with reference to financial reporting of Dhanlaxmi Cotex Limited (“the Company”) as of 31st March, 2025 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to explanation given to us, the Company has maintained, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statement and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31st March, 2025, based on the internal control with reference to financial statement criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

Management’s Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company’s management and Board of Directors are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control with reference to financial statement criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (“ICAI”). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company’s policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors’ Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls with reference to financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system with reference to financial statement and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to financial statement included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to financial statement, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgments, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls system with reference to financial statement.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to financial statement

A company’s internal financial control with reference to financial statement is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company’s internal financial control with reference to financial statement includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company’s assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to financial statement

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to financial statement, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to financial statement to future years are subject to the risk that the internal financial control with reference to financial statement may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

B. Measurement of fair values

Valuation techniques and significant unobservable inputs

The Fair Value of the Financial Assets & Liabilities are included at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

C. Financial Risk Management

C. i. Risk management framework

A wide range of risks may affect the Company's business and operational or financial performance. The risks that could have significant influence on the Company are market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's Board of Directors reviews and sets out policies for managing these risks and monitors suitable actions taken by management to minimise potential adverse effects of such risks on the company's operational and financial performance.

C. ii. Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Company if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from the Company's trade and other receivables, cash and cash equivalents and other bank balances. To manage this, the Company periodically assesses financial reliability of customers, taking into account the financial condition, current economic trends and analysis of historical bad debts and ageing of accounts receivable. The maximum exposure to credit risk in case of all the financial instruments covered below is restricted to their respective carrying amount.

(a) Trade and other receivables from customers

Credit risk in respect of trade and other receivables is managed through credit approvals, establishing credit limits and monitoring the creditworthiness of customers to which the Company grants credit terms in the normal course of business.

The Company considers the probability of default upon initial recognition of asset and whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk on an on-going basis through each reporting period. To assess whether there is a significant increase in credit risk the Company compares the risk of default occurring on assets as at the reporting date with the risk of default as at the date of initial recognition. It considers reasonable and supportive forwarding-looking information such as:

- Actual or expected significant adverse changes in business.
- Actual or expected significant changes in the operating results of the counterparty.
- Financial or economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant change to the counterparties ability to meet its obligation.
- Significant changes in the value of the collateral supporting the obligation or in the quality of third party guarantees or credit enhancements.

Financial assets are written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovery, such as a debtor failing to engage in a repayment plan with the Company. When loans or receivables have been written off, the Company continues to engage in enforcement activity to attempt to recover the receivable due, when recoverable are made, these are recognised as income in the statement of profit and loss.

The Company measures the expected credit loss of trade receivables and loan from individual customers based on historical trend, industry practices and the business environment in which the entity operates. Loss rates are based on actual credit loss experience and past trends. Based on the historical data, loss on collection of receivable is not material hence no additional provision considered.

Financial Assets are considered to be of good quality and there is no significant increase in credit risk.

(b) Cash and cash equivalents and Other Bank Balances

The Company held cash and cash equivalents and other bank balances as stated in Note No. 11. The cash and cash equivalents are held with bank with good credit ratings and financial institution counterparties with good market standing.

C.iii. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in meeting the obligations associated with its financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset.

Liquidity risk is managed by Company through effective fund management of the Company's short, medium and long-term funding and liquidity management requirements. The Company manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate reserves, banking facilities and other borrowing facilities, by continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows, and by matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities.

C.iv. Market risk

Market Risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises two types of risk: currency risk, interest rate risk.

C.iv.a Currency risk

The Company is not exposed to any currency risk on account of its operating and financing activities. The functional currency of the Company is Indian Rupee. Our exposures are mainly denominated in INR's Only. The Company's business model incorporates assumptions on currency risks and ensures any exposure is covered through the normal business operations. This intent has been achieved in all years presented. The Company has put in place a Financial Risk Management Policy to Identify the most effective and efficient ways of managing the currency risks.

C.iv.b Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company is exposed to interest rate risk through the impact of rate changes on interest-bearing liabilities and assets. The Company manages its interest rate risk by monitoring the movements in the market interest rates closely.

(G) Trade receivables

(J) Employee Benefit

(i) Short term employee benefits are recognised as an expense at the undiscounted amounts in the Statement of Profit & Loss for the year in which the related service is rendered.

(K) Earnings per Share

A basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. An earnings considered in ascertaining the Company's earnings per share is the net profit for the period. The weighted average number equity shares outstanding during the period and all periods presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, other than the conversion of potential equity shares that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

(L) Taxation

(i) The income tax expense or credit for the period is the tax payable on the current period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate for the jurisdiction adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences, to unused tax losses and unabsorbed depreciation.

Current and deferred tax is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss except to the extent it relates to items recognized directly in equity or other comprehensive income, in which case it is recognized in equity or other comprehensive income."

(ii) Provision for Income tax is made on the basis of the estimated taxable income for the current accounting period in accordance with the Income- tax Act, 1961 and Revised Income Computation and Disclosure Standards (ICDS) of the Income- tax Act, 1961.

(iii) Deferred tax is provided using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial statements. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the end of the reporting period and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled. The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted to reflect changes in probability that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered. Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilise those temporary differences and losses. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority.

(iv) Current and deferred tax is recognised in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the no tax has been recognised in the books of Accounts.

(M) Impairment of Assets

The Company assesses at each balance sheet date whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the management estimates the recoverable amount of the asset. If such recoverable amount of the asset or the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit to which the assets belongs is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognized in the statement of profit and loss. If at the balance sheet date there is an indication that if a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed, and the asset is reflected at the recoverable amount subject to a maximum of depreciated historical cost.

(N) Provisions and Contingent Liabilities

The Company creates a provision when there is a present obligation as a result of a past event that probably requires an outflow of resources and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources. Where there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

(O) Operating Cycle

Based on the nature of products/activities of the Company and the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realisation in cash or cash equivalents, the Company has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of classification of its assets and liabilities as current and non-current.

(P) Financial Instruments

(I) Financial Assets

(i) Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets and liabilities are initially recognized at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities, which are not at fair value through profit or loss, are adjusted to the fair value on initial recognition. Purchase and sale of financial assets are recognised using trade date accounting.

(ii) Subsequent measurement

(a) Financial assets carried at amortised cost (AC): A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold the asset in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

(b) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI): A financial asset is measured at FVTOCI if it is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

(c) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL): A financial asset which is not classified in any of the above categories is measured at FVTPL.

(iii) Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company uses 'Expected Credit Loss' (ECL) model, for evaluating impairment of financial assets other than those measured at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL).

Expected credit losses are measured through a loss allowance at an amount equal to:

(a) The 12-months expected credit losses (expected credit losses that result from those default events on the financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date); or

(b) Full lifetime expected credit losses (expected credit losses that result from all possible default events over the life of the financial instrument).

For trade receivables Company applies 'simplified approach' which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the receivables. The Company uses historical default rates to determine impairment loss on the portfolio of trade receivables. At every reporting date these historical default rates are reviewed and changes in the forward looking estimates are analyzed.

For other assets, the Company uses 12 month ECL to provide for impairment loss where there is no significant increase in credit risk. If there is significant increase in credit risk full lifetime ECL is used.

(II) Financial Liabilities

(i) Initial recognition and measurement

All financial liabilities are recognized at fair value and in case of loans, net of directly attributable cost. Fees of recurring nature are directly recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as finance cost.

(ii) Subsequent measurement

Financial liabilities are carried at amortized cost using the effective interest method. For trade and other payables maturing within one year from the balance sheet date, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.
